Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Sunday-School Missionary: Incidents and Exercises The purpose of this book is twofold. It aims primarily to meet a demand repeatedly expressed in the correspondence which comes in a continuous stream to the headquarters of the Board for material that will be useful in promoting missionary instruction in the Sunday school. It further aims to encourage in all the Sunday schools the larger consideration of the pioneer missionary work being performed by our Sunday-school missionaries in behalf of the multitude of children and youth living in the outlying rural districts, boys and girls who are without the uplifting influence of the Sunday school and the Bible instruction which it is its purpose to impart. A work which is of such far-reaching importance to the promotion of a better citizenship, and which is such a potent factor in determining the character and prosperity of the Church of the future, should have a prominent place in every plan of Sunday-school missionary education. It is a work which is vitally fundamental to all the other forms of missionary service. Its fruits are seen in missionary labors in the uttermost parts as well as in consecrated ministries in the home field. The appeal of neglected childhood never fails to awaken sympathy. This work presents the Macedonian call of the unprivileged boys and girls of America for a share in the opportunities of Christian training which are enjoyed by those who form the great Sunday-school army.
